Will you help us make a difference?

Founded in 2016, First Light is Australia's only national charity dedicated to supporting and advocating for all widowed people. Our mission is grounded in the belief that no one should walk the path of widowhood alone.

While grief affects everyone differently, widowed people often face uniquely complex challenges. Alongside the loss of their partner, they may experience social isolation and loneliness, loss of identity, financial instability, mental health complications and the emotional and psychological struggles associated with rebuilding their lives without their partner.

Those widowed at a younger age can experience additional challenges, including a lack of understanding from others about early widowhood, the complexities of raising grieving children and/or teens alone, and navigating career and financial responsibilities without their partner.

Without the right support, these pressures can compound into significant social, emotional, and economic vulnerabilities that not only impact them, but ripple through families and communities.

For many, First Light is the difference between struggling alone and moving forward with hope. Our free and accessible trauma-informed programs and resources are designed to strengthen mental wellbeing, build resilience, reduce depression and anxiety and ease isolation.

Every resource we deliver, and every young widowed person and their family that we support, is made possible through the generosity of those who choose to stand with our community. By participating in our Golf Day, you are not simply supporting an event, you are helping ensure that in life's darkest moments, no widowed person has to navigate grief alone.
